

The chart below records the number of child welfare cases at the end of each fiscal year where children were receiving services in their own homes.

